Bro. Ed's Epistle "But you, O Lord, are a shield about me, my glory, and the One who lifts my head." Psalm 3:3

What a great God we serve! He is our ultimate protection and security, better than any military defense system ever devised. He is also our source of pride and honor. In Him we are made righteous and acceptable. We will never be put to shame. The psalmist praises God for being "the One who lifts my head." He lifts our head in honor because we belong to Him. He lifts our head to support and strengthen us because He is filled with compassion for us. And He lifts our head to encourage us in every circumstance. Let God lift your head today as your gracious redeemer.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING – It is my prayer that you and yours have a blessed and Happy Thanksgiving. Since I had been to Gulf Shores just a week or so ago, I decided to just hang around here for the holiday.

Darryl and I want to thank you so much for your concern about Dale and his physical condition at this time. He is doing well and should be back to normal soon. The surgery was a little bit more involved than what we thought but we know the divine healer and trust in HIM.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC – is just around the corner. The Choir has worked hard and we know that you will enjoy it. It is entitled "Oh Holy Night" and has many of the familiar carols and songs of Christmas. So just remember to be here for the morning service of December 19th when we celebrate "Christmas On The Highlands." Many churches will be doing theirs on the other Sundays so help us invite and get the word out about our big day. There will also be our Church Wide Christmas Fellowship luncheon after the service. Then no evening service.

Remember our Lottie Moon Missionary Offering this year. Our goal is $5,555.00 and I know that we will reach and exceed this amount.

God bless each one of you today and just remember, God loves you and so do I. SING-cerely,
Bro. Lloyd

HAPPY THANKSGIVING GIVE THANKS TO THE LORD

Harry's Heartbeat

One morning recently, I awoke at 5:00 A.M. and noticed that my car was gone. The cover was lying in it's place. Before I had a chance to get mad, I set on the side of the bed and prayed that whoever stole it, would get saved before they went to prison or got killed. Don't ask me why, but instead of getting mad and upset, I turned over and went back to sleep. When I got up I called the police. They responded, got all the information and left. Again I prayed that if I was suppose to get it back that they would find it and that it wouldn't be wrecked.

I proceeded to get ready to go to the church. As I got to where I was suppose to turn, I unconsciously drove right on by. When I realized what I had done, I didn't believe it. Then while telling myself how stupid I was, God was telling me something else. No, He did not speak to me orally, however, He did tell me to keep driving and follow His directions until He told me to stop. I made a couple of turns and when I stopped, there was my car. It had been parked in front of an elderly man's house unknowingly to him. Again, I called the police and told them to stop looking for my car because I had found it. Again they responded but no arrest was made. The only damage was to the switch. The only explanation I have is that because I prayed for their salvation first, God led me to my car. God is so good!

I Love You, Harry
