Thank you for your prayers, care and concern expressed throughout my illness and recovery. Thank you so much for the gift/fruit basket and the cards you sent after my surgery. I have enjoyed eating fruit from the basket as a snack almost every day.

Bro. Ed's Epistle -"Devote yourselves to prayer..." Colossians 4:2

As I write we are in the twentieth day of our Prayer for America" emphasis. I trust you are being blessed as richly as me by participating in the effort. I am convinced that the greatest weapon we have in turning our nation back to God is earnest, continuing prayer. For that reason, I am asking you to hold on to your prayer atlas and use it continually as a reminder to pray daily for revival in our nation and world. It is never time to stop praying. It is more important than ever that we persevere in prayer. I look forward to worship, fellowship and prayer with you this week.

HARRY'S HEARTBEAT - By "coincidence," I recently received a phone call from a former member of our church that I had not talked to in a long time. He had dropped out of church after some marital problems. This call was the result of his dialing the wrong number. When I told him my name, he began talking over old times. He revealed how he had renewed his relationship with the Lord. He said, just before he retired, he had an opportunity to witness to a co-worker of many years, only to find out he wasn't interested. He didn't believe in God and didn't believe the creation story. He identified himself as an atheist. He gave his view about the beginning of mankind. After which my friend told him that he wasn't there, but the bible said and he believed it. His last words to the co-worker were what if you are wrong?

I remember reading about two men – Joe and Charlie – who were arguing about Genesis 1:1. Joe said he believed the record of creation just as it was written. Charlie was an infidel, and went to great lengths in giving his own theory of evolution. "Of course I wasn't there." Well God was the only one there and I'll believe an eyewitness rather than your guesses."

It is amazing what a wrong number can do.

See you Wednesday and Sunday! I love you, Harry
