Bro. Ed's Epistle –

"Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord." Ephesians 6:4

One of our great hymns prays: "God give us Christian homes! Homes where the father is true and strong..." That prayer needs to be prayed with even greater urgency than ever before. Our nation is weakened because of absent or abusive fathers. Many of us had godly fathers who are now in heaven. My own father is one of those. I wish every child was blessed with such a father. On Sunday morning, we will give emphasis to the role of men in our families, especially our fathers. I look forward to worship and fellowship with you on Sunday

HARRY'S HEARTBEAT - -

If you are not a football or race fan you may not appreciate this. I have always appreciated Joe Gibbs. He was the successful coach of a football team that won two Super Bowl championship games, a life time dream. He is now owner of two of the top NASCAR racing teams. I recently read an article about how he lives his life. His testimony has flowed from Joe to Labonte crew chief, Jeff Chaudler, and through much of the team.

"I hope what we show people is that God is in control of everything here," Markar says, "I fall way short of it, but the goal is to run it the way Jesus would if He worked here. "Chandler, who can change both of Labonte's front tires in 14 seconds, added: People are different in a place with strong Christian leadership. Problem-solving is different. You apply biblical principles to the problem. The Holy Spirit, whom Jesus sent to teach us, becomes the mediator and works it out. Not all of the crew are followers of Jesus but everybody knows where Joe, Jimmy, Jeff and many others stand.

If Joe Gibbs Racing Team had a motto, how would it read? "Win at all cost." "Victory is our only goal."

But regularly around the shop Joe constantly charges his team:" God first, family second, business third."

Could he be an exception to Matthew 19:23-24?

See you Wednesday Night and Sunday.
 I love you, Harry.
