Bro. Ed's Epistle

"...they have a zeal for God, but not in accordance with knowledge."
Romans 10:2

Paul was referring to unbelieving Jews when he wrote these words to the Roman church. Paul had been one of them. He was zealous and thought he was doing God's work by killing Christians. There is another group of religious zealots in our world today. They are the Islamic terrorists who believe they are serving God by killing the infidels (anyone who does not subscribe to their ideology). On September 11, 2001 at 8:46 A.M. eastern time, they changed America forever. We were not attacked by a nation. We were attacked by religious zealots who are still trying to kill us. We have just observed Patriot's Day which commemorates the attack on 911. May we never forget that day, and may we pray for our nation and the world that the hate represented by the terrorists be eradicated from the earth.

There is another lesson for us on Patriot's Day. It is that we need to be even more zealous for God and the Gospel of Jesus than the terrorists are for their mistaken beliefs. Our zeal is not to kill them, but to share the gospel with everyone so that life will triumph over death and good will overcome evil.

I love you and pray for you daily. I look forward to worship and fellowship with you this week in God's house.
